A. COURSE DESCRIPTION

Theology 121 is the foundational course of the Ateneo de Manila Theology Program. It introduces sophomore students to the basics for “doing theology” at a college level in the Philippines of today.

Theology is faith seeking understanding. Undertaken to arrive at answers to the fundamental questions of the meaning and purpose of human existence in the light of the rich sources of Catholic faith, this on-going search is carried on in the context of the local Christian community, the Church in the Philippines today.

The course aims at developing in the students the skills needed for “theologizing”: interpreting Scripture and Church Teaching in the unceasing interplay between the “Good News” of salvation and concrete human experience. These skills are focused on Jesus Christ, God’s definitive revelation, in whom the believing Christian’s faith-response finds life’s ultimate meaning and purpose.

Learning to “theologize” plays an essential role in developing basic human attitudes and values, by deepening the personal understanding and practice of the Christian faith indicative of disciples of Jesus Christ and active members of his Body, the Church.

B. LEARNING OUTCOMES

1. Explain the nature of theology as faith seeking understanding and faith as a response to divine revelation.
2. Demonstrate the skill of interpreting Scripture using the holistic approach.
3. Integrate the elements of the theological discipline in understanding the life, and the paschal mystery of Jesus Christ and its implication on the personal life of faith.

H. CLASSROOM POLICIES

1. This course is designed as a reading course, with much of the reading material readily available from the beginning of the semester. The classroom discussion and online forum discussion will serve as supplements to the material that the student is required to read. If you are uncomfortable with the amount of reading that is done for this course, either start getting comfortable, or load rev out of the class.
2. All students are required to join Schoology, an online learning platform that will be used as an avenue for submission of assignments and papers, as well as a files resource site where I upload all module handouts and readings. Each section has a different assigned online classroom. You must only join the section that you officially belong to in the class list. You must be part of your assigned Schoology classroom by August 12, 2015, or I will immediately drop you from my class. The Access Codes for each section are as follows:
 - a. SECTION A, your access code is 6W7HX-D63WH
 - b. SECTION B, your access code is 5SS6B-WNFQD
 - c. SECTION C, your access code is 4KB4F-C8P2H
 - d. SECTION D, your access code is 25736-5X4ZN
 - e. SECTION U, your access code is HM7FQ-WPWSP
3. The beadle has been randomly selected by my MacBook. The beadle will handle creating the seat plan, as well as checking the attendance of the class every session. A beadle that does the job well will receive perks for the Final Oral examination.

4. The student is allowed 9 cuts for MWF classes. A late is a cut. Attendance will be checked by the beadle 5 minutes after the second bell, at which point, I will lock the classroom and no one gets in or out until the end of class period. A student is responsible for whatever he or she will miss by not attending class.
5. All requirements must be submitted on time. Non-submission is an INC, which will become an INC for the whole course after two weeks if requirement is still not submitted. (This is practically an F already)
6. All reading assignments have already been prescheduled at the beginning of the semester. A student can begin finishing the various reading assignments as early as possible. A student may submit a reading assignment any time before the deadline (6pm of the scheduled day) of the particular assignment. Just upload your assignment to Schoology. Once an assignment is checked, it cannot be resubmitted or edited.
7. Major exams are all pre-scheduled and pre-announced. Except in cases of emergency, no student will be allowed to take a special exam. If you don't appear for a scheduled exam, that's an F.
8. The theological essay is due a week after the essay question or topic has been given. Follow the format and word count. Upload a copy to Schoology, and submit a hard copy on the day of submission during class time.
9. You may not use electronic gadgets of any form in my class. If I see you playing on your tablets or studying other classes' lessons in your laptops during my lectures, I will eject you permanently out of my class. Please be advised to start searching for another theology teacher who will accept you in the middle of the semester.
10. Starting September, you are required to bring a Bible. If you do not have a Bible, you will be sent out of class. A New American Bible is preferred, but any Catholic Bible is allowed.
11. If a cellphone rings in class, the offending party will be asked to leave the classroom, and will not be allowed back for the day's session. The rest of the class will be asked to do a special reading assignment that will be due the following day. If at any point in time the class makes me angry or tests my patience, I will ask the class to do a special reading assignment that will be due the following day.
12. We will be watching films as supplements for the class (an estimate of five films), which we will dub as Theology Movie Day. The Movie Day is tentatively penciled for a schedule of October 1 (Th), 2 (F) and 3 (Sat). You are to watch a minimum of one movie on movie day (attendance will be checked). You are also tasked to write a theological essay using the movie as a framework. The theological topic can be any of our lessons.
13. Have a courteous and respectful demeanor inside the classroom. The penalty for disobeying classroom policy is up to my discretion. (I can either eject you from the class, temporarily or permanently). Permanent ejection will automatically be a W in my course. It would be wise at that point to search out for another teacher who is willing to adopt you that late in the sem. I, however, doubt any of them will entertain you.
14. By staying in this class, you agree to all classroom policies we have. If you are not happy with any particular policies or matters within this syllabus, please either load rev to another class or withdraw.

I. CONSULTATION HOURS

Consultation Hours: MWF 8:30-9:30, 12:30 - 1:30

Other times, by appointment.

If you have any concerns, please email me at jjbadion@gmail.com

The Schoology classrooms will be the avenue for announcements.
